

SHORT RATE CANCELLATION TABLE

When the cancellation of a policy is desired by the Insured, the policy must be returned by registered mail to the office issuing the policy. Cancellation shall become effective from the date of such mailing only and cannot be dated back.

When the crop has been cut or otherwise harvested, irrespective of the date upon which harvesting occurred, the premium with respect to that portion of the insured crop so harvested shall be deemed to have been fully earned.

The transfer of liability from one crop to another is prohibited.

Cancellation of insurance on growing crops, which become on any date hereunder specified, shall be subject to the payment of earned premiums as set forth in the following table:
